

Book Club Challenge

Judi Hendricks, author of Baker's Blues, wants to visit your book club—at least one in each state and Canadian province, too.

Groups must decide to participate in 2015, but are welcome to schedule Baker's Blues as part of their 2016 reading plans.

Every book group that signs up to read Baker's Blues will receive perks including author participation (via Skype, speaker phone, or in person when possible); three featured recipes from the book and autographed labels to affix to the title pages of all book club members' copies.

Book groups can register by contacting Judi's marketing team at mbisbee.beek@gmail.com anytime before 12/31/15. Spread the word to your reading friends and help Baker's Blues become the most talked about novel in 2015.

“Witness here Judi Hendricks at the top of her game, taking on life’s thorniest issues and handling them with grace, aplomb and the utmost skill. Baker’s Blues will move her into the larger readership she so richly deserves.”

—Jo-Ann Mapson, LA Times bestselling author of Finding Casey and Owen’s Daughter
